

Stocks, Bonds, Treasury Bills and Inflation 1926-2008

U.S. Small Stocks represents the total return for the U.S. Small Company Stock Index, an unmanaged index of stocks of small U.S. companies

Standard & Poor's 500 represents the total return for the Standard & Poor's 500, an unmanaged index generally representative of the U.S. stock market

U.S. Long-Term Government Bonds represents the total return for long-term government bonds, an unmanaged index generally representative of the bond market

U.S. (30-Day) Treasury Bills represents the total return for Treasury bills generally representative of the rate of return on a savings investment

U.S. Inflation represents the consumer price index, an approximate indicator of inflation

This chart is designed to serve as an educational tool and is not intended to recommend any specific investment product. It is for illustrative purposes only and does not represent the performance of any specific fund. Small company stocks are more volatile than large company stocks. Government bonds and Treasury bills are guaranteed by the U.S. Government and offer a fixed rate of return and principal value if held to maturity. It is not possible to invest directly in an index. Source: Standard & Poor's; Ibbotson Associates, Inc., 2008.

Past performance does not guarantee future results.

STI Classic Funds became the RidgeWorth Funds on 3/31/08.

An investor should consider the fund's investment objectives, risks, and charges and expenses carefully before investing or sending money. This and other important information about the RidgeWorth Funds can be found in the fund's prospectus. To obtain a prospectus, please call 1-888-784-3863 or visit www.ridgeworthfunds.com. Please read the prospectus carefully before investing.

©2009 RidgeWorth Funds. RidgeWorth Funds are distributed by RidgeWorth Distributors LLC. RidgeWorth Investments is the trade name for RidgeWorth Capital Management, Inc., the adviser to the RidgeWorth Funds, and is not affiliated with the distributor.